FOSTER CARER SHORTFALL

TODAY there is a shortfall of over 10000 Foster Carers. Do you have something to offer children? Do you want to help children in care? Do you like working with children? Supported Fostering Services is a long established charity and are appealing to you to become an SFS Foster Carer.

Times have changed and fostering is no longer looked at as a voluntary service. In order to recruit and retain foster carers SFS knows that foster carers need to be financially rewarded just like any other workers in social care. Supported Fostering Services provide allowances to enable foster carers to care for children and young people on a full-time basis.

If you have a spare room and can offer a child a caring home SFS will provide training, 24 hour support, and a generous weekly allowance of over £375 per child.

Being a charity is very important to all of us at SFS. We believe every child is unique and deserving of a safe and caring environment. We make sure they have everything they need to enable them to achieve their full potential. And those services are there for you too – qualified and experienced social workers, therapists, working with the child and giving you advice and support. Plus, there's a comprehensive foster carer training programme too.

Supported Fostering Services is proud to have been rated as outstanding at a recent Ofsted inspection. At SFS you can be assured of the highest professional standards plus the personal touch.

Support is always there, 24 hours a day, and carers quickly become friendly with each other through training and social events. At SFS you're part of a team.

Together we enjoy training and a wide variety of events like BBQs, bowling, fishing, even sky diving, all making the SFS foster care experience fun and exciting, and of course rewarding.

Supported Fostering Services is dedicated to providing quality foster homes, a direct result of having plenty of time to offer carers all the help and advice they want, plus any other help that a child needs to help them grow and flourish.

SFS currently needs foster carers from a wide range of backgrounds and are particularly interested if you can look after children across a wide age range, including children with a disability.

The first step is simply calling SFS and we will send you an information pack that includes a Fostering Moments DVD featuring SFS Carers describing their experiences. For additional information you can always call us, we are there for you, or please visit our website at www.fostering.com. We look forward to welcoming you to our outstanding SFS team of Foster Carers in the near future.

What Does It Take to Be a Good Carer?

We asked our carers, and this is what they came up with:

- Our home is a better place because the children are part of the family;
- Understand the child, even though their behaviour may be difficult to understand, let alone handle. It's worth it in the long run;
- Resilience, otherwise known as stickability!
- Non judgmental. Get to know the child as they are;
- Patience;
- Sense of humour;
- Flexibility;
- A good support network of family and friends.

Fostering.

Care for a little character?

Do you like working with children and enjoy the character they bring to life?

Hundreds of children in your community need a home and someone to care for them.

We are recruiting carers from a wide range of backgrounds. We are interested if you have a spare bedroom and can look after children.

If you can offer a child a caring home we can help you with:

- training
- 24 hour support
- generous weekly allowance of over £375

Supported Fostering Services is a Charity and has been rated outstanding by Ofsted at our recent inspection.

TEENAGE GIRLS STABBED IN KNIFE HORROR

A TEENAGE girl remains seriously ill in hospital five days after a triple stabbing outside a Harlow supermarket.

Police officers were called to Fourth Avenue at around 10.30pm on Saturday after reports of an altercation on steps leading down to the Sainsbury's store.

By CHRIS MOSS
mossc@hertsessexnews.co.uk

When they arrived they found two 15-year-old girls with superficial injuries and a 16-year-old with a more serious stab wound.

All three victims were taken to hospital, where the 16-year-old girl's condition was initially

Pair threaten staff in Staple Tye shop raid

POLICE are hunting armed raiders who burst into Martin's newsagents and demanded cash from staff.

The two men walked into the shop, which has an in-store post office, at Staple Tye at 8.50am on Tuesday and threatened workers but fled empty handed.

Witnesses have told police they saw the men carrying a firearm and a knife.

Police have not released details of how many staff were in the shop at the time but said they took refuge in a back room until the raiders gave up and left.

The suspects were dressed in dark clothing and wearing black balaclavas. They drove off in a red vehicle which was later found abandoned in Brockles Mead.

Detective Chief Inspector Trevor Roe said: "We are appealing to anybody with information to come forward.

"We would like to know if you saw anything suspicious in the lead up to the incident and afterwards."

Anyone with information should call Harlow CID on 0300 333 4444.

described as critical. As the Star went to press yesterday (Wednesday), medics said she remained in a serious but stable condition.

The two 15-year-olds were discharged aftre receiving treatment for their injuries.

Officers arrested eight girls aged between 14 and 18 from Hertfordshire and north London following the attack. Seven have since been released on police bail until January pending further inquiries while the eighth – an 18-year-old from Palmers Green – has now been released without charge.

A Sainsbury's employee said: "It really hits home when something as terrible as this happens just yards away from where you spend your working day.

"All our thoughts are with the families of the young girls who were the victims of this attack. I can't imagine what they must be going through."

A shopper at the Fifth Avenue store, who asked to remain anonymous, added: "This is the sort of terrible violence you think of as only happening in big cities with serious crime problems. I'm shocked it has happened in Harlow and involved such young girls."

Superintendent Ewen Wilson, head of territorial policing at Essex Police, said knife crime would always be dealt with robustly and highlighted the ongoing work of the force in educating youngsters about the dangers and consequences of carrying weapons.

"We will continue to work tirelessly to ensure that levels of knife crime in Essex remain low," he added. "Those responsible for committing such offences will always be dealt with robustly."

Family tributes to the victim of holiday tragedy

TRIBUTES have been paid to a Harlow businessman who drowned while on a family holiday.

Ewan Kerr (49), brother of the town's former Labour Euro MP Hugh Kerr, was found face down in the sea after attempting to swim to a group of rocks in northern Cyprus.

He was pulled ashore but despite attempts to save him he never regained consciousness.

This week his partner Yvonne Dean, with whom he lived in Morley Grove, Harlow, said: "The family and everyone at his company is still in shock. We carry on day-to-day because that is what Ewan was like."

His brother Hugh, who also served as a local councillor in Harlow, said: "It is such a tragedy to lose somebody at such a young age.

"Ewan was a lovely lad. All his staff who came to the funeral said he looked after them well."

Mr Kerr owned and ran electronics and lighting firm Telesys Lighting Services in Coldharbour Road. The firm has been going for five years after his original company, Telesys UK which he set up in 1989, branched off.

By LOUISE SASSOON, News Editor
sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Mr Kerr was on holiday and was at a beach cove with family and friends when he decided to swim to a rock pool before heading back to the villa where Ms Dean was preparing lunch.

But he swam into difficulties and was found floating face down in the sea 10-15 minutes later.

More than 100 people attended his funeral at Epping Forest Burial Park.

Mr Kerr, who was an active member of the Morley Grove Residents' Association, was born in Irvine, Ayrshire, and moved with his family in 1960 to Harlow where he attended Burnt Mill School.

He leaves Ms Dean, her five children and the couple's adopted son, David.

This week Harlow MP Bill Rammell said: "I was at school with Ewan and I was friends with him. I was really shocked to hear that he had died at such a young age.

"I obviously know Ewan's brother Hugh very well and my thoughts have been with him at this immensely tragic time."

Cat bells to thwart purse thieves

GIVE US A BELL: PC Aksit Ekren attaches cat bells to Janet Markham 's bag (photo:HAR0596967)

SAFETY conscious shoppers have been given an extra something to arm them against the perils of pickpockets . . . cat bells!

Neighbourhood policing officers were handing out the anti-theft devices to people in Harlow town centre yesterday (Wednesday) as part of an operation to reduce purse thefts in the town.

The free bells are attached to purses and warn the owner if it is being removed from their bags without their knowledge.

But police say the best way to prevent petty criminals is to always keep purses in zipped bags and avoid carrying too much money.

Government minister hears case for new town bypass

TOWN officials had the chance to put their case for a Harlow bypass to a Government minister this week.

Barbara Follett, Minister for the East of England, met with Harlow MP Bill Rammell, councillors and representatives from Harlow Renaissance to talk about the need for an A414/M11 link.

They said the road was a must if the town's transport network was to cope when homes are built as part of the East of England Plan.

Afterwards, Mr Rammell said: "I am pleased the regional minister has taken time to visit Harlow and discuss the need for a new A414/M11 link road.

"This meeting offered myself and key partners the opportunity to present the arguments for investment in an A414/M11 link road."

Extra funding for services to help migrants

A MASSIVE windfall grant has been awarded to Harlow to help the town's huge migrant population.

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A total of £220,000 will be ploughed into services for foreign residents after it was found the number arriving in the town was growing at an above-average rate.

It is hoped the investment which has been jointly awarded to Harlow Council and Harlow 2020 – the umbrella organisation for the main public services in the town – will enable migrants to better support themselves.

Andrew Johnson, leader of Harlow Council, said: "We are very pleased to receive the funding in recognition of the pressures that local services face from migration."

Jackie Sully, chairwoman of Harlow 2020, added: "The funding will help us to carry out long-term research into needs and also to tackle immediate issues such as lack of housing and the need for advice, legal and translation services."

During the period 2005-07 the number of Polish migrants arriving in the town and registering for work increased by 90 per cent compared to 30 per cent for the rest of Essex.

The funding will be split between the town's Integration Support Service, which helps people with a variety of issues when they arrive in the town, and Harlow Council projects including a rent deposit scheme specifically for migrants which would enable money to be loaned to them so they can rent in the private sector and take pressure off the council housing waiting list.

Mimoza Matoshi, of Integrated Support Services, said: "We are a well-established charity supporting migrants and other ethnic minority groups to integrate successfully in the UK community.

"This funding will increase the capacity and improve the infrastructure of our organisations to help public sector organisations, individuals and groups when dealing with any issues relating to migrants and other ethnic minority communities."

Care home's new garden is a treat for the senses

PEOPLE living in a Harlow care home can now enjoy the smells, sounds and sights of a new sensory garden.

The specially-designed space was unveiled at Ashlyn Care Centre, in Vicarage Wood, by Rev Lynn Hurry from St Mary at Latton Church on Saturday.

The space has been specifically tailored to meet residents' needs, with raised beds and a host of sense-awakening features including a water feature, wind chimes and a selection of fragrant flowers and herbs.

There is also a shed for those who want to get their hands dirty by helping to plant and care for the garden.

The whole project was funded by a grant from Essex County Council.

A spokeswoman for the care home said: "All the residents love it. It is such a beautiful area which they will be able to enjoy."

Dealer who was selling fake stamps is spared jail

A DEALER in counterfeit stamps who pleaded guilty to possessing 22,800 items worth £8,000 has been ordered to carry out 280 hours of unpaid work in the community.

Francis Leach (29), of Silvesters, Harlow, was told by a judge at Chelmsford Crown Court that if he had been caught counterfeiting 200 years ago he could have been hanged or sentenced to transportation.

Leach breathed a sigh of relief at being spared prison and as he left court, said: "I am very fortunate. It did cross my mind that I could have been hanged for this in the past."

Prosecutor Warren Tatford said the stamps were found at Leach's home on August 14 last year by police officers executing a search warrant.

When police arrived Leach, who was said to be £250,000 in debt and facing bankruptcy proceedings, said: "Is this something to do with the stamps I've sold on eBay?"

The court was told he had claimed he bought the stamps for £150 at a car boot sale.

Nicholas Marney, representing Leach said in mitigation the money his client had received for the stamps he sold had been paid back to all but two people.

Mr Marney added that Leach was of previous good character.

Lib Dem fury at Tories for blocking bid to join 10:10 carbon plan

A ROW has erupted after Harlow's Liberal Democrat councillors questioned the ruling Conservative administration's green credentials and accused it of failing to make a firm commitment to reducing the authority's carbon footprint.

A motion tabled by the Lib Dems at Thursday's full council meeting called on the authority to sign up to the national 10:10 Campaign and cut carbon emissions by 10 per cent next year, as well as encourage residents, businesses and other organisations in the town to do the same.

But following a discussion on the issue, the Tories amended the wording of the motion before it was voted through, pledging instead to cut the authority's energy consumption by 10 per cent but without signing up to the 10:10 scheme.

Liberal Democrat group leader Chris Millington said: "The Tories' refusal to accept our motion is very sad given how important tackling climate change is to the future of this planet.

"It is sad that they have refused to take a lead and join other councils in championing the 10:10 initiative, a failure driven by spite and petty mindedness simply because the initiative came from the Liberal Democrats."

But council leader Andrew Johnson dismissed Lib Dem claims of a cop-out, arguing that cutting back on energy consumption was a much more measurable means of tackling climate change.

"While 10:10 is a very laudable campaign, the problem we had was that it is neither specific enough nor easily measurable," he told the Star.

"By concentrating on reducing our energy consumption and encouraging others to do the same, we will be able to see the reductions much more clearly."

Man denies GBH charge

A MAN accused of causing grievous bodily harm with intent to a man outside The Shark pub in Harlow faces a seven-day trial at Ipswich Crown Court.

Dennis Clarke (62), of Hobtoe Road, Harlow, denies GBH with intent.

He appeared at Chelmsford Crown Court on Monday and was remanded in custody until the hearing for which no date has yet been set.

Mark Stacey was treated for severe head injuries after an incident outside the pub in Hodings Road on June 30 this year.

Infection controls keep hospital free of MRSA

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HEALTH chiefs have heaped praise on staff after it was reported that no cases of the deadly MRSA bug had been recorded at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital for a period of more than 200 days.

The zero-infection landmark was reached on Saturday, making PAH only one of a handful of hospitals in the country to achieve the standard.

And it highlights the improvements made since an inspection carried out last year which said levels of hygiene and cleanliness at the hospital were among the worst in the country.

Chris Pocklington, chief executive of the PAH NHS Trust, said this week: "It is a fantastic achievement by our staff. We are now one of the first acute hospitals in the country to pass the 200 -day milestone without any case of MRSA blood infections.

"We have already been praised for our work in reducing Clostridium difficile (C.diff) at the hospital and are now ranked one of the best performing trusts in the country in controlling both C.diff and MRSA."

The hospital began tightening its infection-control procedures after details of a self-assessment carried out by its own staff last year revealed PAH to be one of eight hospital trusts which failed to meet two out of three key hygiene targets last year.

The data, based on PAH managers' own analysis of performance in the year ending March 31, 2008, revealed the hospital failed to have systems in place to ensure the risk of hospital-acquired infection to patients was reduced and failed to provide services in environments which promoted effective care and optimised health outcomes with cleanliness levels that met the national specification.

But massive strides have been made with, according to the Department of Health, the trust reporting seven cases of MRSA against a target of 12 from April 1, 2008 to March 31 this year.

For C.diff, only 38 cases were reported against a target of 107 during the same period.

Mr Pocklington added: "I would pay tribute to our infection control staff, our in-house cleaning team and all staff in the hospital for their ongoing vigilance and hard work in controlling infections.

"Many NHS organisations have stated an aim of going a year without an MRSA blood infection and we are over half way to achieving just that."

CHRIS POCKLINGTON: "It is a fantastic achievement by our staff"

MPs back petition for reduction in rent hikes

CASH-strapped council tenants could save £150 on average per year if council chiefs sign a deal to reduce rent rises.

That was the claim of Harlow MP Bill Rammell when he joined John Denham, Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government, in Harlow town centre yesterday (Wednesday) to drum up more support for a petition aimed at putting pressure on Harlow Council to take up the offer.

The Government is urging all local authorities to reduce their rent increases for council homes in return for a subsidy to make up some of the shortfall.

But Harlow Council is one of three authorities reluctant to agree to the deal, claiming it will lose around £400,000 per year if it went ahead with the proposal.

Mr Denham said: "The Government has made help available to individuals, home owners and businesses during these difficult economic times and a striking example of this is the Real Help Now for council tenants which means savings on rents, if local authorities apply for it.

"Harlow is one of only three local authorities not to apply for it, and I can understand why Bill Rammell and Harlow Labour Party's campaign is receiving such support.

"We have made subsidy available and it is contingent on each local authority to pass these benefits on to tenants."

Woman (19) sentenced for race-hate assault

A YOUNG woman involved in an assault on a rastafarian in a racially motivated attack has been ordered to be treated under the Mental Health Act.

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Candice Durling (19), of Horn-beams, Harlow, admitted taking part in the assault on Neil Grant as he walked along the cycle path near Second Avenue on July 21 last year.

Two other defendants – James Ellen (23), of Arkwrights, Harlow, and Jason McMenanin (20), of The Dashes, Harlow – have already been sentenced for their parts in the attack.

Ellen pleaded guilty to racially aggravated assault causing actual bodily harm while McMenanin admitted causing actual bodily harm.

They were each jailed for six months when they were sentenced in April.

Sentence on Durling had been adjourned while medical reports were prepared. When she returned to Chelmsford Crown Court on Friday she was made the subject of an order under the Mental Health Act

Judge Anthony Goldstaub told her: "You took part in a vicious attack on a peaceful rastafarian."

During the earlier trial the court heard that Mr Grant was subjected to racial abuse and had a dreadlock pulled out.

When he sentenced Ellen and McMenanin, Judge Goldstaub said: "This was an appalling attack on Mr Grant who was walking on a public footpath when he was set upon with physical and oral abuse."

He added: "Apart from insulting Mr Grant by shouting racial abuse he was punched and kicked and a bottle was used. He was pulled to the ground and held there while beaten.

The judge described the attack as a humiliating, degrading terrifying and very painful experience, adding: "The ferocity can be judged by one of his dreadlocks being pulled from his head.

"It was described as looking like a pack of wolves attacking something."

TV expert David is star of show

FAMILY heirlooms were dusted down when TV antiques expert David Battie visited Harlow for a valuation evening.

Among the pieces were early 18th century porcelain, Royal Worcester figurines and a rare Royal Doulton Shakespeare jug worth £900.

As well as valuations, the evening included a lively and informative presentation by the Antiques Roadshow expert which featured anecdotes and behind-the-scenes tales about the BBC show.

David Woods, dealer principal for Skoda car dealers Darlington which organised Thursday's event, said: "We are delighted with the success of our second antiques evening and for the support it has received from the public."

Money raised from the evening will be donated to the Harlow branch of the Alzheimer's Society.

Internet launch for television channel focusing on Harlow

TELLY addicts will soon be able to get their entertainment fix from an unlikely source – a channel dedicated entirely to Harlow.

The aptly named Harlow Television, which will feature shows based in and around the town, is due to launch this year.

Pete Meads, one of the founders and presenters and who once appeared in the BBC children's drama Grange Hill, told the Star: "We got the concept from a similar channel called Red TV which was available on cable quite a few years ago and was based in Pinnacles."

Mr Meads and fellow producers Steve Saunders and Dave Cross, will be travelling around Harlow filming events and getting residents' views on local issues.

They are also hoping to lure some celebrities into taking part, with Big Brother stars Pete Bennett and Kat Kasisopa among names who may do stints as presenters.

At first the channel will be streamed via the internet with ambitions to strike a Sky deal if the venture proves successful.

Mr Meads said: "I am very excited about the whole idea; I just love being in front of and behind the camera.

"The feedback has been really good. My group on Facebook has got about 130 members all throwing out their ideas for the channel. It's about time that someone should be providing a pipeline link to the town."

Vintage Vibes

Vintage style crosses eras and ignores time lines. It is not a slave to fashion but combines the best of the past with the needs and desires of today.

It's all about using treasured ideas and materials, infused with memories and nostalgia. Take pleasure in seeking out inspirations from the past and making them your own.

Vintage is eclectic by nature, gathering elements from different eras and working them together to create a comfortable non-conformist style.

Fishpools are celebrating 110 years of great furniture by paying homage to the styles that have influenced today's best designs. Their Vintage collection uses recycled woods in the Havana bedroom; beaten up leathers on the William sofa and chair; and an eclectic mixture of texture and colour on the fabulous Utah sofa that will inspire you to create a unique look that's bang on trend.

A WORLD OF FURNISHING IDEAS

Retrial jury clears drug charge accused

A WOMAN who blamed her boyfriend for drugs and associated paraphernalia found at the flat they shared has been cleared of any involvement after a re-trial.

Natasha James, now of Parish Way, Harlow, told Chelmsford Crown Court on two occasions she had no knowledge of cannabis and other items found by police when they raided the flat in Potter Street.

At her first trial a jury failed to reach a verdict, but on Tuesday a second jury accepted her story and returned a verdict of not guilty.

The court had heard police searched the flat after stopping her boyfriend, Michael Steele. They found 1.8 kilos of cannabis, plastic bags and drugs paraphernalia.

Ms James denied possession of cannabis with intent to supply.

During the hearing she told the court she had gone shopping and that none of the items were in the flat when she left.

She said when she was interviewed after her arrest that Steele must have taken the items to the flat after she had left.

Traders' fears over rent rises

TRADERS in a Harlow shopping precinct have voiced fears for their futures after businesses were hit with huge rent hikes.

Two shops in The Stow, pictured above, are in the process of having action taken against them in order to meet rent increases of over 50 per cent demanded by Harlow Council.

And a further four business owners are being hit with potentially massive rises in their monthly payments.

The situation has left many concerned about their cash flow and has been blamed for forcing some firms to close.

Sue Palmer, owner of Salon 112 in the shopping centre, has been fighting a 55 per cent rent rise for two years and is now at the stage of arbitration.

"I am going to have to find the money to pay and it is stressful," she said. "Not only do I have to get up each day and worry about running a business and keeping staff in jobs but now I have to worry about how I will pay this.

"I have no idea what improvements have been made to The Stow to warrant such a huge rent increase."

Claire Harrison, owner of Top Form, was told in June her rent would increase by 45 per cent from rates set in 2004.

She said she is hopeful negotiations due to take place this week will see the figure reduced but added: "It is an astronomical amount and too much for the area. The Stow is run down and has had no regeneration.

"It seems Harlow Council is putting a lot of pressure on small businesses at a time when they can do without it."

Earlier this year the Star reported that traders were worried their livelihoods could be jeopardised after low-budget food chain Aldi was given the go-head by councillors to build a supermarket near the precinct.

And in March shopkeepers protested after plans to introduce car parking charges were pushed through.

Simon Carter, chairman of Harlow Council's policy and resources committee, said the council had tried to be as supportive as possible but said rents could not be kept at "artificially low" levels.

"It is a sad fact of the recession that some shops will not survive," he added.

Warning over phone tricksters

CRAFTY crooks are duping residents into giving their bank account details over the telephone by claiming to be police.

Scammers are telephoning people to say a fraud has occurred and telling them they need their bank account details in order to investigate it.

An Essex Police spokesman warned: "Never give out your bank details to anyone. If in doubt hang up and contact your bank."

Volunteers helping to protect the countryside

ONE of the greatest treasures we all share is the English landscape.

Nothing can take that away . . . or so we might like to believe. But the demands for new housing, roads, schools, hospitals, industrial parks and now wind farms means that we can't take the countryside for granted.

For more than 60 years the Campaign to Protect Rural England has been one of the leading groups in the preservation and protection of our landscape. The Essex branch, which has around 1,000 volunteer members, is now facing one of the greatest challenges of thepast 25 years.

Population has hit record levels and the need to provide more new homes in Essex is growing all the time. The branch, which covers the county from Southend to Saffron Walden and Harlow to Harwich, is part of the CPRE East of England group with the other county branches of Bedfordshire, Cambridgeshire, Hertfordshire, Norfolk and Suffolk.

Essex is a county of contrasts. In the north it remains a rural, farming area with dozens of small villages while in the south, alongside the River Thames, derelict industrial land is being earmarked for housing development.

West Essex, because of its proximity to London, is affected by the increase in traffic and new housing yet in the east, out beyond Burnham-on-Crouch and the Dengie Marshes, are some of the remotest and quietest places anyone could expect to find within 100 miles of London.

CPRE continues to campaign against the increasing number of threats which could change the face of Essex for ever, but the work is demanding for the volunteers who carry the CPRE banner and message throughout the local communities. The organisation needs more people to share their concern for the county and is hoping to boost membership of all nine districts.

In Harlow and Epping, which face the prospect of massive changes from the building of new homes and the development of Stansted Airport, CPREssex is stepping up efforts to recruit more people to join the cause. One of its great strengths is its depth of knowledge and experience when dealing with planning issues, but locally-based individuals are needed to keep in contact with local developments.

CPREssex is currently looking for a new chairperson as well as increasing overall membership. There are already many stalwart members and, no matter where they live in the county, all share a common purpose – to preserve and protect the English countryside.

The Campaign to Protect Rural England is a charity which depends on the generous support of members and supporters.

Fundraiser Mick to run half marathon

By SOPHIE WARNER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

IT'S a ticket to London for one determined resident who will be running a half marathon to help a little girl beat a life-limiting illness.

Mick Cleary (44) is planning to get into the groove when he takes part in the musical-themed event called Run to the Beat to raise cash for two-year-old Rae White, who has been diagnosed with the rare genetic condition Spinal Muscular Athrophy type 2.

The disorder means Rae, who lives in Harlow, only has a life expectancy into her late teens and will never be able to walk or stand.

Mr Cleary, of Elwood, Harlow, said: "I had already registered to run the marathon and paid my money when Rae was diagnosed with SMA earlier this year so I decided to help raise some money for her charity, Rae of Sunshine – SMA."

Run to the Beat is a half marathon with a difference. The 13-mile road race, starting at the O2 Arena in Greenwich, has 16 key points throughout the run where musicians play live music intended to spur the runners on to the finishing line and create a carnival atmosphere.

"I have been getting up twice a week at six in the morning to run seven miles and every Sunday I run 12 miles," said Mr Cleary. "It has been very hard. This is the first time I have done anything like this but I am hoping to complete it in less than two hours, which is not bad for my age group!"

Mr Cleary, who works as a network analyst in the City, is hoping the support of his friends and family will see him to the finish line.

"I have about 20 people coming to support me, including Rae and her mum, although I think they just want to see me collapse at the end," he said.

Having already raised about £2,500, Mr Cleary is keeping his fingers croissed that he will reach his £3,000 fundraising target before the race this Sunday.

Anyone interested in sponsoring him can do so by emailing raeofsunshinesma@hotmail.co.uk

Ray's praise for the troops

FILM star Ray Winstone has flown to Afghanistan to thank British troops serving on the frontline.

The actor, who lives in Roydon, paid a visit to Camp Bastion in the aftermath of one of the toughest summers British troops have experienced in Helmand Province.

"I just want to go there as a representative of the public to thank the boys and girls," he said.

Ray joined teams from the Joint Forces Explosive Ordinance Disposal Group in a training area to see how they counteract the deadly devices on a daily basis.

During his three-day visit to the British base he also spent time with some of the smaller units which are crucial to the smooth operation of the camp and visited the Force Protection Wing, which is responsible for the security of the base.

"I'm always impressed by how all the units work together, everyone from the chefs and the posties to the infantry lads," he said.

Walk raises £8k

A RECORD number of people pounded the pavements of Harlow to support the local branch of the Alzheimer's Society.

About 250 walkers took part in the Memory Walk, completing either a four-mile route or one of two shorter distances.

"By taking part in the event and collectively raising over £8,250 through sponsorship and donations they have made a vital contribution towards the ongoing work of the branch," said manager Marion Howell.

Gordon Younger, chairman of the branch added: "The money raised will go towards helping us to continue to offer support to people with dementia in Harlow, their carers and their families. Without the support such as we were fortunate to receive it would simply be impossible to maintain our vital work and to provide our services, free of charge, to all those who need them."

Park open days

PONY rides, an owl encounter and woodcarving demonstrations are just a few of the things on offer to visitors of Epping Forest Burial Park in Kiln Lane, North Weald, when it holds an open weekend this Saturday and Sunday.

Members of staff will be giving tours of the woodland and answering questions about the park's services.

The park will be open from 10am-4pm both days, although pony rides will only be available from noon-3pm on Sunday.

Legal aid

LEGAL eagles at Harlow law firm Attwaters dressed as Vikings to present a cheque to St Clare Hospice.

The team of solicitors raised £7,000 by holding and taking part in a series of fundraising events, including a sponsored walk and Viking-themed It's a Knockout event.

"On behalf of everyone at Attwaters I can say that the blisters and aching limbs incurred on the sponsored walk and the It's A Knockout were worth it," said partner Joyti Henchie. "St Clare's is a fantastic facility and we're delighted to have raised £7,000 for it. We know the money will be put to excellent use."

Computer help

A FREE computer service for disabled and housebound people is now on offer for Harlow residents.

ITCanHelp, an organisation dedicated to assisting disabled people with any computer problems, offers the service with the help from well-trained and police checked volunteers. Email co-ordinator, Les Fearns on Essex@itcanhelp.org.uk for more details.

Coffee breaks

COFFEE lovers will be able to have a brew and raise money for charity in Harlow tomorrow (Friday).

Students at Harlow College will be laying on hot drinks, biscuits and cakes from 10am-2pm in its Skylight Brasserie as part of the World's Biggest Coffee Morning fundraiser run by Macmillan Cancer Support.

And staff at Bonmarche, in Broad Walk, will be putting the kettle on and doing their own coffee morning to raise cash for the cause.

Defendant in house letting scam given work order

A MAN involved in a house letting deposit scam on a property in Old Harlow has been spared jail.

Brian Jacques (45), of Gibb Croft, Harlow, was instead given a 10-week jail sentence suspended for 12 months and ordered to carry out 180 hours of unpaid community work.

Jacques, who appeared at Chelsmford Crown Court on Friday, had earlier admitted two offences of fraud by false representation on April 3 last year in relation to a property in St Edmund's Way.

The court was told another defendant – Jason Knox, who has already been jailed for four months for the offences – was the instigator of the scam.

Robin Dupreez, prosecuting, said Jacques had been involved in receiving £500 and £495 in payments for deposits for the property which was advertised in a local newspaper.

He had handed over a note to one person as a receipt but later said: "I felt bad taking that money off them. I am extremely sorry I became involved with Jason Knox."

Veronica Reeve, representing Jacques, said in mitigation he was doing it to get work from Knox and had only become involved on April 3.

"He's highly remorseful and says he is highly embarrassed by it," she said.

Jacques was ordered to pay £1,000 costs by the judge who said he accepted the scam had been Knox's idea.

Couple incensed at 'crazy' charge for block refurb

By CHRIS MOSS
mossc@hertsessexnews.co.uk

AN angry homeowner living in a former council flat has described a bill for refurbishment works carried out on his building as "crazy" .

Greg Nowosielski, one of four private leaseholders living in the block of 12 flats in Northbrooks,was stunned to discover he was expected to contribute a staggering £6,890 towards the total renovation bill of £36,061, despite being assured by Harlow Council the costs would be split evenly between each household.

The former builder, who lives with pregnant wife Agnes and son Kacpar, was further angered by what he claims is the poor standard of the work that was carried out.

"I was told the costs would be split evenly between each flat but it doesn't take a genius to work out that my bill is more than double what it should be if that was true," he told the Star.

"Not only that but the quality of the repainting and repairs is very poor. I used to be a builder and there is no way I would have done such a bad job."

Refusing to pay his bill until the work has been rectified, Mr Nowosielski has now been threatened with legal action by the council. But this week he was adamant he would not be "bullied" into paying over the odds.

"If I had gone to the Jobcentre and got on benefits, got a council house and lived off handouts I wouldn't be facing this huge bill.

"It's a crazy amount of money and I don't see why I should pay more just because I work for a living."

FUMING: Greg and Agnes Nowosielski outside the block of flats in Northbrooks

Harlow Council was unable to offer an explanation as to why the Nowosielskis' bill was so high as the Star went to press, but housing committee chairman Lee Dangerfield admitted that a council officer and surveyor had now agreed some of the work needed redoing.

"A Kier Harlow surveyor and council officer inspected the block and although the work is to an acceptable standard there are a couple of minor items that need rectifying and these will be paid for by the contractor," he said.

"We are going to provide another breakdown of the costs to the leaseholder and offer to meet to go through the figures."

New purge on young drinkers

By LOUISE SASSOON, News Editor
sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

ADULTS who buy alcohol for children are being targeted as part of the latest crackdown on underage drinking in Harlow.

The purge has already cost a 19-year-old man an £80 fine for buying booze for two girls.

The incident occurred in Bush Fair last Friday when the man and four youngsters were stopped during a routine patrol as part of an operation run by Harlow Council, police and Essex Trading Standards officers.

Two of the girls were carrying alcohol which CCTV footage from a nearby shop proved had been bought by the 19-year-old.

Nick Churchill, chairman of Harlow Council's licensing committee, said: "We are increasingly shutting down the routes through which underage people obtain alcohol.

"We have targeted the retailers and will now deal with the proxy sales. We need to make adults aware that buying the odd bottle for young people is not harmless. Not only is it illegal, it is placing children and young people at risk."

Anyone caught buying alcohol on behalf of under 18s will receive a fixed penalty fine.

"We will be targeting areas where we know young people approach shoppers and watching for these transactions," warned Mr Churchill.

The crackdown is part of an ongoing operation to reduce underage drinking in the town and follows on from successful test purchasing exercises to catch shops selling alcohol to minors.

The action has had positive results, with test purchasing failure rates slashed from 37 per cent in 2007 to just 11 per cent in 2008.

Chief Inspector Nick Morris, of Harlow police, said: "Members of the public often tell us that the issue of underage drinking in public concerns them.

"Statistics show that young people who get drunk in public are not only more likely to behave in a criminal manner but are even more likely to become a victim of crime.

"All adults who purchase alcohol for underage people are putting these people in danger."

No charges over scooter death

A MOBILITY scooter rider will not be prosecuted over the death of a Harlow pensioner.

Lillian Macey (90), of Wedhey, was knocked down and killed after colliding with the vehicle as she crossed a road while holidaying in the Isle of Wight in July.

An investigation was launched and witnesses sought over the accident. But this week prosecutors said that while the standard of driving fell below that of a competent and careful driver and was careless, no charges would be brought because scooter drivers are not governed by the same laws as road users.

A spokesman for the Crown Prosecution Service said the island's district crown prosecutor had reached the decision after reviewing the initial police investigation.

"Other offences of assault and wanton or furious driving were considered," he added. "However, the DCP decided that there was insufficient evidence to provide a realistic prospect of conviction for those offences and therefore the driver will not be prosecuted."

Mrs Macey had walked across a zebra crossing when she was struck by the scooter driven by a 76-year-old man. She was taken to hospital but died two days later.

Her family has been informed about the CPS decision and a file on her death is now being prepared for the coroner.

ANGRY: Joy Bedu claims she has been unable to use her shower for several weeks because of shoddy workmanship

Disabled woman's nightmare over 'botched' building work

A DISABLED council tenant claims she has paid more than £1,000 for botched refurbishment work on her home.

Joy Bedu (57), of Northbrooks, Harlow, spent £1,200 on replacing decking in her back garden and retiling her bathroom.

But she said she had been left with a broken shower, uneven tiling, crumbling grouting and screws protruding dangerously from her new decking which have cut her dog's paws.

Ms Bedu, who suffers from arthritis and is awaiting a knee operation, told the Star: "This has been an absolute nightmare. I haven't been able to have a shower for weeks now, which my doctor says is vital to get my muscles working in the morning."

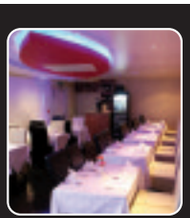

After her attempts to get the company to rectify the faults failed, Ms Bedu contacted trading standards who advised her to send the firm a letter outlining her complaints.

When this failed to provoke a response, she sought advice from Harlow Citizens' Advice Bureau about the possibility of taking legal action against the firm and is now awaiting an appointment with a specialist advisor to look at her case in detail.

"It had taken me ages to save up for the work to be done and now I'm going to have to get it done all over again," she said. "I just want other people to be aware so they don't make the same mistakes as me."

When the Star contacted the company who carried out the work, they said they had done nothing wrong and dismissed Ms Bedu's complaints as "insane".

"When we finished up we asked her if she had any problems with the work but she seemed perfectly happy," he said. "As far as we're concerned we've done nothing wrong."

Theme park a 'magical' experience

IF you have ever wanted to sneak along the magical corridors of Hogwarts school or sip a pint of butterbeer in The Three Broomsticks, a new Harry Potter theme park opening next year could make your dreams come true.

The people in charge of the fantastical new attraction at Universal Studios in Florida say they've worked closely with author JK Rowling to make it just like the books and films.

The park will feature a real-life Hogwarts castle as well as nearby town Hogsmeade, where daredevil fans will be able to go on hair-raising rollercoaster rides.

The Hogwarts Express will even be on hand to move people around and visitors will be able to shop for souvenirs in fictional stores such as Zonko's and Ollivander's.

Among the rides that will be in the park are Dragon Challenge, Flight of the Hippogriff and Harry Potter and the Forbidden Journey.

"All the action and adventures of Harry Potter's world will come to life here," said head of the resort Tom Williams. "We can't wait to see the looks on our guests' faces!"

A 'new' home for old photos

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THIS week Nostalgia has a story that will warm even the stoniest of hearts and one which has come as a direct result of this page.

Regular readers will remember the handful of photographs we featured a few weeks ago alongside a request for information about the people in them.

In the same story we also asked the relevance of the name Mrs Snook, printed on a luggage tag found near the pictures which were discovered in the loft of a house in The Dashes.

Well, this week the mystery has been partly solved after we were contacted by Nikki Taverner, whose in-laws used to live in the house in which they were found.

She writes: "The pictures that you have printed are of Jack and Molly Taverner.

"Molly's maiden name was Snook. My mother and father in-law used to live at 27 The Dashes, opposite Molly and Jack.

"It was a shock to my husband when he opened the paper to see his granddad looking back at him. On behalf of my father-in-law we would like to collect the photos and send them back to where they belong.

"We would also ask that you thank the kind people that bought these photos to you rather than chucking them away. We would also like to thank you all at the Star."

The pictures were discovered by a regular reader who does not wish to be named but was keen to reunite them with their rightful owners. We have now passed on Mrs Taverner's information to her.

Does music school picture ring any bells?

THIS picture of children playing instruments at a Harlow music school has arrived on the Nostalgia desk, but can anyone tell us which music school it might be or the date it was taken?

Perhaps you are one of the children pictured and would like to contact Nostalgia to share your memories. If so, contact us in the usual manner.

RATS CLEARED FROM SCHOOL

Mark Hall School was given a clean bill of health after officers cleared the building of rats. Evidence of the offending rodents was found when the school's heating was changed during the summer holidays.

STC JOBS ARE SAFE

STC assured its Harlow workers that the company's 400 redundancies would not affect them. Officials from the business say most of the cuts will be made in Brighton.

DUSTMEN 'GO SLOWER'

Harlow Council is accusing its dustmen of working slower than ever. Council officers think they are protesting at changes which have seen staffing on crews cut.

ROBBERY CAR IS FOUND

A getaway car used in a double shooting and jewellery shop robbery in East Finchley has been found in Harlow. The red Ford Escort was found by police while on a routine patrol of the Harvey Centre car park.

DAVID (DAVE) GETHING

15th September 1978 - 26th September 2003

Words can never tell you how much we really cared,
The laughter and the magic in the times that we all shared.
Your life went by too quickly like the ending of a play,
But you'll be young forever when we are old and grey.
We will not forget you as the time goes passing by,
Time will never heal the wounds and stop us asking 'why?'.
David you were special but we had to say 'goodbye',
And though you had to leave us, our love will never die.

We still miss you so much David,
Love Mum, Dad and John.

Rents decision is a Tory travesty

SIR, Lee Dangerfield's letter regarding rent reductions for council tenants only serves to highlight how far out of touch the Conservative-run council has become and how little they care for the people they represent.

In response to his claim that it will cost Harlow Council £420,000 to accept this subsidy, the reason for this is that the Conservatives increased rents above the Government's guideline of 6.2 per cent. Therefore, with an offer which subsidised rent reductions for all tenants within an area based on the assumption that the rent reductions would be 50 per cent of 6.2 per cent, a rent increase greater than 6.2 per cent meant there would naturally be a shortfall.

Of course Harlow Council was not the only council across England to propose a rent increase above the guideline. However, 99 per cent of these local authorities wisely took the decision that accepting the Government's offer and making the rents tenants have to pay more affordable in the current economic climate is the right thing to do.

These local authorities prioritised their council tenants, something Harlow Council has failed to do since the Conservatives took control.

It is also worth pointing out that in over 50 years of Labour or joint Labour administration, the council never once proposed setting rents above the Government's guideline figure.

Over the past two years we have become used to the Conservatives running down the council's financial position to serve their own ends. The fact that they are now exaggerating its financial position to avoid passing on the rent reduction is a disgrace and has to stop.

That Harlow Council is one of only three local authorities across England proposing not to reduce council rents this year is a travesty. Harlow residents deserve better.

Government's strategy is a shambles

SIR, It is rare that one reads such utter drivel as the letter from Tony Durcan (Star, September 17).

I, along with many other residents, would be quite happy to spend 10-15 minutes to help smarten up a local cable box which has been defaced by graffiti vandals.

Mr Durcan is quite right, however, in asking why this situation arose in the first place and suggests this is the result of poor council leadership.

Allow me to inform him of the true facts that many thousands of families now feel throughout the country. Following 12 years of Labour Government, I can only describe its strategy as a chaotic shambles.

Any deterrent against crime has long since disappeared and it's no wonder a malevolent surge in lack of respect and savagery has now emerged to dominate so many public places and effect so many people's lives.

After 12 years this Labour Government has repeatedly failed to keep any of its promises and it still remains supersoft on all kinds of crime.

With the constant influx of migrants from all over the EU, not including the 1,000,000 not known to the Government, our system can no longer cope and we all now face a £1bn tax bill to provide for extra housing, schools, education, health and benefit payments.

Recent research revealed a totally uncontrolled immigration policy which is now simply unsustainable and is directly affecting ordinary British family life and culture.

Last year a total of 450,000 British citizens left the UK for other countries, not to the economic climate but because of the Government's policy of taxing everyone to the hilt.

Gross mishandling of the economy means the national debt at present stands at £3 trillion – £50,000 for every person in the UK.

While the erosion of the nation's economic strength has dealt a grievous blow to present living standards, the barbarianism on our streets is even more degrading to the quality and respect of our proud nation.

I must thank Mr Durcan for providing a great source of entertainment to myself and friends with his humorous remarks.

The one consolation in all this is it shall not be too long before we can boot this bunch of Government spin doctors out of office and all their supporters can move back to Mars.

R. Tweed
Fir Park, Harlow

Tenants lose out

SIR, Last March, in response to the economic crisis currently confronting all of us, the government made provision for local councils to reduce the amount by which they would have otherwise increased their house rents for this year only.

The Government has received a £19bn income from the rents paid by council tenants over the past 30 years. This is because of Tory housing legislation dating back to then.

The balance of income is very much in favour of central government and not tenants as little of this money has found its way back to source. Now there is a demand for new council house building which has already been paid for by tenants' rents.

Of all the 200 or so councils eligible, only three have refused to reduce rents. Harlow is one of them.

Harlow Council says that by taking up the Government scheme it will become approximately £1.1m poorer in its rents income this year. Against this, the Government will be making a payment to Harlow this year of some £900k resulting from interest adjustments.

The Housing Revenue Account (HRA) has already been raided to the tune of £350k this year by the Tory administration to use for other purposes. With the addition and retention of these monies and tenants having their rent increase reduced, the HRA would be healthier with more cash towards achieving the Decent Homes Standard.

So when the Tories cast dark hints on cuts in further services such as The Playhouse, paddling pools and Pets Corner in addition to those made earlier this year, one has to wonder what they set out to achieve. Certainly placing the blame on council tenants having a £3 reduction on their rent increase is extremely unfair considering the sums they have contributed via Tory-inspired law to central government for 30 years.

School meetings

SIR, The governing bodies of Spinney Infant School and Spinney Junior School, together with Essex County Council, have this month issued a consultation document on the proposed amalgamation of these two schools in order to establish an all-through primary school on the same site with effect from September 2011.

As part of the consultation process two public meetings are being held at 2pm and 7pm on Thursday, October 1 in the shared dining room of Spinney Infant and Junior schools. These meetings are open to parents, pupils and anyone interested in education in Harlow.

I would urge any interested parties to attend one of these meetings so that they can hear more about the proposals, ask questions and express their views to the governing bodies and representatives of Essex County Council.

I understand that individuals wishing to object or make comments on the amalgamation proposal should do so in writing to Spinney Consultation, Essex County Council, School Organisation and Planning, FREEPOST CL3636, County Hall, Chelmsford CM1 1XZ or e-mail admin.strategy@essex.gov.uk.

Our schools are at the very heart of our communities so I hope as many interested parties as possible attend and participate in the consultation process.

SPOTLIGHT On Education 2009

Independent school values every pupil

SAINT NICHOLAS provides affordable, quality independent education with excellent educational opportunities and outstanding facilities.

Each child is valued in their own right and the school promotes children's personal development, encouraging lively and enquiring minds, respect for others and a high regard for learning. The stability of continuous education from the ages of 4-16 is a major factor in helping to achieve this.

Saint Nicholas believes in individual care and attention. Visitors to the school are impressed by the friendly, positive attitude of the pupils and their energetic sense of purpose. The staff are caring and understanding, yet know the importance of effort and discipline in enabling pupils to achieve the highest academic standards.

Why not visit the school to see the outstanding opportunities that Saint Nicholas has to offer? Tours and 'taster days' can be arranged at any time.

Specialist language and science college

NEWPORT FREE GRAMMAR SCHOOL, an 11-18 Specialist Language and Science College, welcomes boys and girls of all abilities. Set in 34 acres of very attractive countryside, the school currently has 1,000 students including a very strong sixth form.

Newport enjoys excellent facilities including a purpose-built arts centre, a floodlit all-weather hockey pitch, a science and technology centre, a sixth form centre and a splendid new sports hall. It is about to open a new centre for special educational needs.

These fine facilities complement the broad and balanced curriculum on offer. Highly-qualified and dedicated members of staff have high expectations of all students. Public examination results at all levels exceed national averages by some way.

Out-of-class activities also abound with successful sports teams, a wealth of talented music ensembles, an active Duke of Edinburgh Award scheme and spectacular drama performances.

Newport also has an extensive international programme with annual exchanges to France, Germany, Italy, Spain and the Netherlands and last year offered trips to South Africa, America and China.

For further information visit the website www.nfgs.essex.sch.uk and visit the school on open morning on October 3 between 10am and 1pm

Unique style and atmosphere at England's oldest Catholic school

LOCATED on a beautiful 400-acre site in the East Hertfordshire countryside, ST EDMUND'S COLLEGE is an independent, co-educational, day and boarding school for children aged three to 18.

As England's oldest Catholic school, founded in 1568, St Edmund's provides a traditional Catholic education to more than 800 day students and boarders from all faiths and denominations.

One of the key aspects of St Edmund's is its unique style and atmosphere, which values academic excellence and the achievement of a personal best, right through from ST HUGH'S, the preparatory school, to sixth form and beyond.

In addition, all students are supported by a high level of pastoral care, based on a successful house system, where there is always help at hand.

As well as the impressive main college building that resembles a large stately home, the school boasts modern specialist teaching facilities, spacious sports fields, a floodlit all-weather sports pitch, tennis courts and an indoor swimming pool. There is also a dedicated sixth form centre, a vibrant music school and an exciting range of extra-curricular activities.

HAREC HARLOW SECONDARY SCHOOLS OPEN DAYS & EVENINGS 2009

We are pleased to offer the following programme of Open Days and Evenings to help families make the right choice of Secondary School for the September 2010 intake

SCHOOL: Mark Hall Community School & Specialist Sports College, with Westvic, 01279 866280
email: general@markhall.essex.sch.uk www.markhall.essex.sch.uk
DATE: 24th September
VISIT ARRANGEMENTS: School tours: 9.15 – 10.15am; 11.15am –12.15pm
Additional bookable tours and dates will be announced at the Open Evening
School Open Evening: 6.30pm – 9pm
Headteacher's Talk: 7pm & 8pm

We are a forward looking school with traditional values, developing the learners of today for the ever changing world of the future.

At Mark Hall School we believe that it is our purpose to create an environment where everyone is empowered to grow and develop as responsible citizens and lifelong learners. We are committed to developing the range of skills, knowledge, attitudes and understanding, of all members of our community. In practice this means that we aim to model and develop:

- Positive attitudes, dignity and respect for all
- Caring and supportive working environment for all
- High aspirations for all our learners
- A school which is safe, fair and honest
- A shared responsibility for learning with all our partners
- Engagement and enjoyment in all aspects of learning, leading to high achievement and personal success

The achievement of excellence in all that we do is at the heart of the school. Our positive partnerships, with parents and carers, promote the value of learning and ensure that all members of the community are respected and encouraged to make a positive contribution. We encourage all people to use their talents with pride and seek to improve in all that they do to realise their dreams and aspirations. We believe this to be true for students and staff alike.

Students, parents and inspectors tell us that they are pleased with the direction that the school is going in and are supportive of 'what we are about'.

OFSTED commented in this year's report that recent actions are having a "dramatic impact in raising the quality of teaching"

"Significant progress had been made thanks to the determination and strong strategic direction of a good Headteacher" OFSTED 2009

As a Specialist Sports College we have invested in a state of the art Sports Centre that has considerably extended the learning facilities for all of the community. This has allowed the school to offer an increasing range of activities, including specialised coaching and pathways into accredited clubs within the community. The diversity of the curriculum ensures that we engage all learners and create pathways to learning that promote achievement and success. The Sports College has been instrumental in driving forward this diverse experience for all the young people at Mark Hall.

This is an exciting time for you as parents and carers, but also for all the young people as they move from one phase of learning and education to another. It is important to us that you feel that we have the best interests of you and your family at the forefront of our work as a school community. We are excited to welcome you into our learning community where your child's learning today will make them a success in the world they will shape for tomorrow.

Every Child Every Chance Every Day

SCHOOL: Burnt Mill Community School & Specialist Performing Arts College, with Westvic, 01279 300555
email: office@burntmill.essex.sch.uk www.burntmill.essex.sch.uk
DATE: 1st October
VISIT ARRANGEMENTS: School tours: 9.15, 11.30am, 2.15pm
School Open in Evening: 6.30pm onwards
Headteacher's Talk: 7pm & 8pm

BURNT MILL provides academic excellence in a caring community where learning counts and people matter. The school is characterised by a dedicated governing body, well qualified staff, impressive levels of achievement and opportunity, an excellent partnership with parents and a commitment to high standards of behaviour.

We are proud to be a Specialist College of Performing Arts, with Ofsted commenting on our 'first rate performing arts productions.' Our dynamic, innovative curriculum and impressive range of extra-curricular activities ensures that all students remain engaged, challenged and motivated throughout their unique 'learning journey'. This has led to the Ofsted comment that: 'the level of enjoyment seen in lessons and around the school is high'. Ofsted also described the tracking of academic progress as good and that in the very best lessons the use of assessment is outstanding. In 2008 our 5+A*- C GCSEs including English and Mathematics was 37 %, significantly above the Government target of 30%, and those achieving higher grades including functional English and Mathematics was 58%. We also received certification from the SSAT to recognise the fact that our 5 + A*- C results including English and Mathematics have improved year on year between 2005 and 2008 by ten percentage points or more. We stood at joint 21st out of the 153 schools listed as making this kind of improvement.

Most importantly, students are proud of our school; it is where 'student voice' really makes a difference. This pride has been reflected in the acquisition of national awards such as the Healthy Schools Award, Artsmark Gold Award, The International School Award, Sportsmark, Silver Eco Schools, Effective Partnership with Parents Award and we are members of the National Association for Gifted and Talented Children.

SCHOOL: St Mark's West Essex Catholic School & Specialist Business & Enterprise College, with Westvic
01279 421267
DATE: 8th October
email: admin@st-marks.essex.sch.uk www.st-marks.essex.sch.uk
VISIT ARRANGEMENTS: School tours: 9.45 – 12.45am
School Open Evening: 7pm – 9pm
Headteacher's Talk: 8.15pm

St Mark's West Essex Catholic school serves the needs of young people in Harlow and Epping from Catholic backgrounds as well as practising members of other faiths. Close to the town centre, St Mark's provides continuing education from 11 to 18 years.

With a warm and friendly atmosphere, St Mark's offers an education based on Gospel values where high standards of achievement, behaviour and uniform are expected and accepted by all. Pupils achieve excellent results, with achievement above the National Average at both Key Stages 3 and 4; successful post-16 courses ensure clear progression routes for all pupils at 16, 17 and 18-plus. A purpose-built Sixth Form centre, a learning resources centre, and a planned Sixth Form extension building (to be completed in June, 2010) support the learning of over 270 Year 12 and 13 students taking A/S, Applied and A2 courses. Just over 300 students have received offers of places at university in the past 5 years.

St Mark's was designated a Business and Enterprise Specialist School in September, 2004, and offers a broad and balanced curriculum where challenge and enterprise and work-related learning encourage achievement. A specialist Business and Enterprise Centre was opened by the Secretary of State for Education and Skills in September 2005.

In the past five years, St Mark's has been listed in the 'Most Improved' top 100 schools for KS4 achievement on three occasions. With dedicated and hard-working staff who serve and care for your children, St Mark's remains a first choice school. In November, 2006, the Ofsted inspection team began their report with …"St Mark's is a good school. It is a place where everyone is welcome."

MSTVC * is the name for the new 6th Form Centre opening in September 2009 which is being run by all the schools in conjunction with Harlow College. In effect all Harlow schools featured in this advertisement now offer educational provision from ages 11-18

Ease into the new term with Kumon free trial

DO you want your child to achieve at school and go on to lead a happy, successful life?

The start of a new school year can be a daunting time, so many parents look for ways to strengthen their children's study skills and give them some extra support.

KUMON STUDY CENTRES provide many children with the skills required for academic progress, and, unlike some tutoring services, Kumon puts the emphasis on giving children the independent learning skills and confidence to realise their own potential.

Maths and English programmes are tailored to each individual with the pace of progression placed in the child's own hands, allowing struggling students the practise they need and gifted children to advance quickly.

Kumon is offering TWO WEEKS' FREE TRIAL from September 21 to October 20.

Contact your local Instructor, Nicola Norbury, at the Bishop's Stortford Kumon study centre on (01920) 461457.

MANY HANDS: Bishop's Stortford College sixth formers work together on a leadership course

College's top marks at A level

BISHOP'S STORTFORD COLLEGE emerged, once again, as one of the top-performing independent co-educational schools in the country, achieving 88 per cent A-B grades at A-level.

While academic study is the school's priority, it also believes passionately in the value of an all-round education. The senior school's most recent inspection reported that: "The school's strength lies in the diversity and quality of the activities and opportunities available".

The Good Schools Guide* concluded that, "Pupils have a wonderful skill-set: a combination of confidence without arrogance, considered intelligence, an appetite for hard-work and play, and a seemingly refreshing openness".

The Bishop's Stortford College Sixth Form is a vibrant and ambitious place for vibrant and ambitious young people. Visit on Saturday October 10 for a Sixth Form Open Morning to find out more.

Call Marie-Louise Gough on 01279 838604 for details.

Bishop's Stortford College Junior School will also be holding an open morning on Saturday October 10 for 11-plus (Year 7) entry. Call Fiona Brett on 01279 838607 for details.

Howe Green's personal approach to learning

HOWE GREEN HOUSE SCHOOL is known for its personal approach and commitment to high standards of education and boasts a strong and active commitment to the family.
Boys and girls from the age of two can join Acorns Nursery, where places are offered on a sessional basis. Parents can also apply for their children to join the main school in kindergarten at the age of three and continue through until they are 11, when they transfer to a range of secondary schools in both the independent and state sectors.
The school has a history of high academic achievement and success in secondary placement at the end of Key Stage 2.
Howe Green House offers a friendly, family atmosphere with small class sizes. It delivers a broad-based curriculum with a creative emphasis and pupils benefit from specialist teachers in music, sport, drama and ballet.
Parents are actively encouraged to be partners with the school in their children's education. The school values the child for its unique personal qualities and seeks to provide lasting skills for life, strong self-esteem and a sense of wonderment and reflection.
Emotional literacy is incorporated into the children's learning as part of the extensive curriculum. Staff are committed to providing a rich learning environment where all children flourish and feel valued.
Howe Green House is set in seven-and-a-half acres of beautiful countryside only five minutes' drive from Bishop's Stortford and 15 minutes from Great Dunmow. Inquiries and visits to the school are always welcome. Please contact Lesley Hubbard on 01279 657706 or log on to www.howegreenhouseschool.co.uk.

Friendly but challenging environment at Friends'

TEAM SPIRIT: Friends' School couples high academic standards with a broad framework of personal development

FRIENDS' SCHOOL is a co-educational day school for pupils ages three to 18 with boarding from age 11.

The school aims to realise the potential and talent of all pupils within a friendly but challenging environment. High standards of teaching and academic attainment are enriched by a broader framework of personal development.

Friends' is one of the top schools in the country to deliver a "value-added" education, improving achievement between age 11 and GCSE. It achieves this through small teaching groups with excellent, committed staff and a focus on academic progress and achievement within a framework of all-round development. Pastoral care is excellent and pupils receive high levels of individual attention.

Friends' School is known for its strong creative tradition in the performing arts, while the extensive playing fields, heated swimming pool and modern sports hall offer a wide range of sporting opportunities for all children.

Full and weekly boarding is available in three houses; girls, boys and the sixth form. House staff provide supportive and friendly environments where boarders are encouraged to take increasing amounts of responsibility and to contribute to the life of the boarding house.

Danielle lands a star role in town's panto

THE talented young actress chosen to play the belle of the ball in this year's magical Playhouse pantomime production Cinderella has been unveiled.

Harlow-born Danielle Black (17), pictured right, made it through two rounds of gruelling auditions to win the theatre's Search For A Cinderella contest. She will take the title role in December.

The promising young actress currently attends the prestigious Italia Conti Academy of Theatre Arts and has previously appeared on the Playhouse stage in Oliver!, Robin Hood & The Babes In The Wood and Snow White & The Seven Dwarves.

She will receive an Equity contract for her starring role and hopes the part will prove to be the ideal platform from which to launch a successful professional career.

"I was over the moon, I couldn't believe it," she said. "When I was told over the phone that I'd got the part I jumped up and down!

"My dream is to be in the West End so this will be a fantastic stepping stone."

what's on

COMEDY: The Comedy Club makes the first of two appearances at The Playhouse tonight (Thursday) with rib-tickling stand-up sets from Aussie comic Colin Cole, satirist Geoff Northcott and former street performer Windsor. The entertainment begins at 8pm and tickets cost £10 from (01279) 431945.

MUSIC: Slip on your platform shoes and squeeze into your loon pants - Mamma Mia meets Saturday Night Fever at The Playhouse tomorrow (Friday) night when popular tribute act Supertroupers take to the stage for a spectacular concert featuring hits from both Abba and The Bee Gees. The show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £18 from (01279) 431945.

MUSIC: The late Billy Fury is remembered in a stunning tribute show at The Playhouse on Saturday featuring his original backing band, The Tornadoes. Colin Gold reprises the role of the great man to belt out hits including I Will, Jealousy and Halfway To Paradise. The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £16 (£15 concessions) from (01279) 431945.

MUSIC: The music of wartime Britain will fill St John's ARC, Old Harlow, on Saturday when local jazz legend John Petters and his swing band hold a commemoration dance. Tea and coffee will be available in the hall but visitors are welcome to take their own drinks. The concert begins at 8pm and tickets cost £10 from (01406) 365731.

OPERA: The Playhouse's new Music On A Sunday season continues this weekend with Mozartissimo, a concert charting the life and works of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart through operatic set-pieces. Including arias and duets from famous works including The Marriage Of Figaro and The Magic Flute, the show starts at 7pm and tickets cost £14 (£13 concessions) from (01279) 431945.

MUSIC: Spot-on tribute act Metalica UK bring their thunderous sound to The Playhouse on Wednesday night with an explosive show featuring massive hits including Some Kind Of Monster and Enter Sandman. The gig begins at 8pm and tickets cost £14 (£12 concesssion) from (01279) 431945.

Blood test gets an A+

"DID you ever hear of the Johnston twins? As like each other as two new pins, of one womb born, on the self same day, how one was kept and one given away?"

So begins Harlow Theatre Company's adaptation of Willy Russell's haunting, tragi-comic tale of two brothers, separated at birth and propelled to opposite ends of the social spectrum yet never more than a street, field or girl away from one another.

REVIEW
Blood Brothers
Harlow Theatre Company
Victoria Hall Theatre

A classic study of nature versus nurture, of class struggle, fate and superstition, HTC's ambitious production certainly had a lot to live up to if it was to replicate the enduring success of the West End musical version of the 1982 play.

But under the assured direction of Steve Foster and featuring a reliably talented cast of am-dram stalwarts, HTC take to the disquieting test with genuine relish to create one of the finest pieces of theatre ever to grace the well-trodden boards of Victoria Hall.

Pivotal to its success is undoubtedly a remarkable performance by Ben Parsley, who plays Mickey with an almost Blakeian sensitivity to the bleak realities of working class decay, broken dreams and festering class contempt.

Kate Millner as Mrs Johnston perfectly captures the descent from wide-eyed working class mum to guilt-ridden, child-selling wreck, while Wendy Parsley likewise puts in an affecting performance as hysterical yet sinister middle-class adoptive mother Mrs Lyons.

Sophie Lloyd gives a coy, coquettish and confident turn as the twins' mutual love interest Linda, John Stevenson is endearingly plummy as naïve, bumbling university-educated brother Eddie and Jane Prangnell gives a brilliantly brooding performance as the play's narrator, offering curt lyrical analyses of the on-stage machinations.

Perhaps the golden feather in HTC's increasingly flamboyant cap, Blood Brothers is yet another praiseworthy triumph for amateur theatre in Harlow and a credit to the ongoing efforts to save Victoria Hall from closure.

Chris Moss

● The show continues at Victoria Hall Theatre in Bury Road, Old Harlow, until Saturday, with evening performances at 8pm and a Saturday matinee at 3pm. Tickets are available priced £10 (£8 concessions) from 07870 663480.

THE SOLOIST
certificate 12A 1h57m

RAW talent will only get you so far. More often than not, it's the people you know and being in the right place at the right time that are important.

The Soloist is an inspirational true story about a musical prodigy crippled by schizophrenia who unexpectedly gets a second chance at his dreams thanks to an influential journalist.

The fractious relationship between the two men is at the heart of Joe Wright's third feature, which trades in the frocks of Pride & Prejudice and Atonement for the grime of 21st-century Los Angeles.

Steve Lopez (Robert Downey Jr) is a Los Angeles Times columnist whose daily portraits of metropolitan life are missing their old spark. With a failed marriage to his editor Mary Weston (Catherine Keener) behind him, he attempts to concentrate on his work and is always looking for that one great story.

He finds it one day on the streets where a homeless man called Nathaniel Ayers (Jamie Foxx) is playing a battered two-string violin. Nathaniel claims to be a student at Juilliard and when Steve checks, the tall tale turns out to be tethered in fact.

A reader responds to the story by sending a cello and Steve arranges for David Carter (Nelsan Ellis), who manages the Lamp Community homeless shelter, to take care of the instrument. He then organises an apartment for Nathaniel and lessons with Graham Claydon (Tom Hollander), a cellist from the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra.

However, no matter how hard Steve struggles, he has no control over the voices in the musician's head.

The Soloist is a worthy drama about the unlikely friendship between two men, one looking to re-discover life, the other embracing it with a volatile passion.

Downey Jr and Foxx give powerful performances, the latter ricocheting between violently confused and playfully sarcastic, while screenwriter Susannah Grant successfully conveys the desperation of people living on crowded streets, their hopes washed down the gutter many years ago.

Yet everything feels contrived, right down to the comic interludes with Steve trying to ward off raccoons using bags of coyote urine which invariably slosh down his front.

THERE are some mornings, you just don't want to get out of bed. So on those mornings,wouldn't it be lovely if you could dispatch a doppelganger to take your place?

In this futuristic action-thriller from director Jonathan Mostow (Terminator 3: Rise Of The Machines), humanity can do just that. And it's perfectly acceptable because in this near-future Utopia, humans exist from the comfort of their homes by taking control of sexy, robotic surrogates.

While the user relaxes in familiar surroundings, the virtual self carries out all of the mundane tasks. Pain, fear and, most importantly, crime are eradicated overnight.

In this brave new world, FBI agent Greer (Bruce Willis) is the law and, like everyone else, he operates through a surrogate. However, when the first murder in years is committed, Greer is forced to abandon the physically-perfect mechanical representation of himself and enter the world for real.

He discovers a deadly and far-reaching conspiracy involving the upper echelons of power.

FAME
certificate PG 1h47m

JUMPING on the High School Musical bandwagon, Kevin Tancharoen's revamp of the 1980 film returns to the High School for the Performing Arts in New York City under the leadership of Principal Angela Simms (Debbie Allen).

The country's most naturally-gifted artists, dancers, musicians and singers come to this seat of learning to hone their skills and chase dreams of stardom.

Trained for professional careers in the arts and pitted against one another in the classroom, the students quickly discover that nothing short of excellence will do during four years of trials and tribulations.

Hopefuls including Marco (Asher Book), Rosie (Kristy Flores), Neil (Paul Iacono), Kevin (Paul McGill), Denise (Naturi Naughton), Jenny (Kay Panabaker), Alice (Kherington Payne), Malik (Collins Pennie), Victor (Walter Perez) and Joy (Anna Maria Perez de Tagle) push themselves to the limit to the delight and obvious envy of their classmates, while attempting to impress their teachers – Alvin Dowd (Charles S Dutton), Joel Cranston (Kelsey Grammer), Fran Rowan (Megan Mullally) and Lynn Kraft (Bebe Neuwirth).

still showing

CLOUDY WITH A CHANCE OF MEATBALLS (3D/2D) This computer-animated film is also a colourful morality tale about the gluttony of the West, where bigger is apparently always better. Bill Hader voices the inventor whose contraption causes food to rain from the sky, while Anna Faris is the inexperienced weathergirl asked to cover this meteorological phenomenon.

THE FINAL DESTINATION (3D) Bobby Campo plays the lead who saves his friends and other bystanders from certain death at a speedway track, only to see them killed one by one as death restores its true order.

GAMER Writer-directors Mark Neveldine and Brian Taylor abandon the turbo-charged action of Crank and its sequel for grim futurism in this all-guns-blazing variation on The Running Man.

500 DAYS OF SUMMER Quirky romantic comedy allows no happy ending for greetings card writer Tom (Joseph Gordon-Levitt), who falls for his boss's new assistant Summer (Zooey Deschanel). As the 500 days of their relationship unfold, Tom comes to realise that while Summer might be perfect for him, he's not her Mr Right Now or even her Mr Right Ever.

DISTRICT 9 Heart-breaking morality tale about humanity's intolerance emerging from the arrival of an alien spaceship.

ALIENS IN THE ATTIC (weekend only). A spaceship full of ray gun-wielding extra-terrestrials intent on invading Earth meets resistance in a most unexpected form in John Schultz's out-of-this-world family comedy.

TINKERBELL Enter the magical world of fairies and meet the enchanting creatures of Pixie Hollow, who nurture nature and bring about the change of the seasons.

NIGHT AT THE MUSEUM 2 The story switches to the largest museum complex in the world, the Smithsonian Institute in Washington DC, where revived pharaoh Kahmunrah aims to take over the world.

CHARLOTTE'S WEB Wilbur the pig is scared of the end of the season because he knows that he will end up on the dinner table. He hatches a plan with Charlotte, a spider who lives in his pen, to ensure that this will never happen.

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
Opportunities can arise but you cannot expect to set the agenda entirely to suit yourself. If you show significant tact, and awareness to politics and decorum, your star will shine brightly. Yet as soon as you try to hurry the pace along, people and life will seem to conspire to block you. Be conscious of the impression that you create and cultivate Aries. Call me for more astral advice…

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
Following your muse needs to be balanced with workaday considerations. Ironically, if you don't try to be too conscientious, things can flow well. Sure, there's that "doer" side of you, but if you get too caught up in trying to achieve it, it can stop you from enjoying what can be a seminal time socially, if you give yourself permission to go for it. Call your prediction line for more news…

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
Both the Sun and Mercury have moved beyond the overpowering influence of Saturn, and Mercury does an about turn and is given a big boost by Mars. This can see you clear away chores and tasks which have hung around or even got you down. If you've been waiting for news on property, conveyancing or any family cash, things can speed up now. Call for your in-depth forecast…

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
The Quarter Moon occurs in your opposite sign of Capricorn. If you have teenagers or demanding younger children, you may have to muster all of your patience to deal with moans and groans, and some moodiness. However, your strength comes from understanding what is behind people's actions, and in this case, provide the right response. Call your special prediction line for more…

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
If money has been slow to materialise, or people have been evasive in repaying cash they owe, Mercury's move to forward motion, along with Venus's magic, can bring tangible improvements to your situation. If you do decide to treat or indulge yourself, it can be gizmos and devices which prove tempting - especially if you're into digital gear. Call for your financial forecast in full…

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
If projects have seemed to have been going no where fast, now you can feel that you have turned a corner. People can also seem more responsive to your ideas. There can be a playful vibe and friends can be both supportive and fun. Booking a weekend away with a pal, could really excite, especially if good food, wine and relaxation, are at its core! Call now for more astral advice…

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
Folk often love a bit of gossip and someone can be keen to ferret something out of you, which has been unfolding of late. But there can be a fickleness on their part, and if you'd prefer to keep this to yourself, make your excuses. A longer term plan, can however start to pick up pace. Extensive travel is possible, as is attending a training course. Call your prediction line for more advice…

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
You can strike a confident chord if you're meeting anyone this week, and if you're actively involved in business, your network of contacts and drive can see you make progress in a way which has proved rather illusive so far this month. However, a friend could prove unreliable over cash. Rather than lose a pal, it may be better to avoid getting involved. Call me now for more…

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
You can be an ambitious person, but just what your personal objectives are, may differ to other Goats. Think of the area that making progress around would give you the greatest satisfaction. Got it? Well, this is where you should direct your energies. However, slower mortals could frustrate you a bit, if they seem to be moving at a snail's pace. Call now for more news and advice…

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
Your imagination can be sparked by this week's Quarter Moon, and film and music can move your senses, on the back of this. This can also be a critical time for long term financial interests especially around property, pensions, investments and business. After seemingly endless delays and irritations, a major improvement can shape up for you. Call for your financial forecast…

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
In your love life or close relationships, the crossed wires, tensions and unfair expectations (from your point of view) which have seemed to have blighted much of the month, can now start to unravel more positively. True, you may have received some fearsome feedback or comments, but if you've truly learnt from these, things look far brighter now. Call for your love scope in full…

Fiesta heaven 7th time around

WITH 12 million Ford Fiestas already sold across the world, the latest model has a lot to live up to – and it's been carefully designed to succeed.

It's lighter, yet stiffer, greener and cheaper to run. It's also safer and better to drive even than the Mazda2 supermini, with which it shares a common platform.

This car represents Ford's future – in more ways than one.

So, climb in: what's the experience like?

Well, the first thing you'll probably notice is that there's nowhere to put your key, Ford having switched to one of those trendy (but rather pointless) 'Power' buttons which you press to start.

It's easier to get comfortable at the wheel than it was in the old car thanks to the improved seating and rake/reach wheel adjustment.

Peace of mind comes with the news that this is the first Ford small car to feature a driver's knee airbag, along with side airbags and optional curtain airbags.

Engine choices start with the familiar 60PS 1.25-litre and 90PS 1.4-litre Duratec petrol units. Also carried over is the old, frugal, if rather leisurely 68PS 1.4-litre TDCi. Above this level, things start to get a bit more interesting.

Ford has been doing a bit of work on the old model's 90PS 1.6-litre TDCi Duratorq engine with the result that you can now order it in ECOnetic form, in which it emits just 99g/km of CO_2, making it exempt from UK road fund duty. Other superminis look like lumbering 4x4s in comparison.

At the other end of the scale, Ford is keen to reassure driving enthusiasts that it hasn't forgotten them either, with the introduction of a 120PS 1.6-litre T-VCT petrol powerplant that makes 60mph in 9.9 seconds, used in plusher models that include the sporty Zetec-S.

Trim levels start with Studio, rising through Style and Style+ to the low running cost ECOnetic model. Zetec, as before, is expecting to be popular, likely to account for around 35 per cent of sales, while sporty drivers get the 3-door-only Zetec-S, offered either with 1.6-litre TDCi diesel power or the 1.6-litre Duratec Ti-VCT petrol unit.

At the top of the range, Titanium variants are specced up like Christmas trees but retail at the kind of money which would buy you a significantly larger car. Less, as so often, is more.

Anyway, even entry-level Fiestas come with ABS, front, side and knee airbags, a CD player, central locking and electric mirrors. There are nice touches, too: we particularly liked the EasyFuel cap-less refuelling.

This Fiesta may not be the largest car in the supermini sector, but on just about every other main criterion it's either up there or class-leading, which makes a change from the relative mediocrity of the previous generation model.

It at last has cutting-edge looks and a decent cabin, plus the ECOnetic version shows other makers how green a compact yet practical runabout like this can be.

Overall, a pragmatic mix between tried and tested elements that are cost-effective and shiny new details that gel extremely well. Small car buyers simply can't ignore this car.

Scrap

DVLA Driver and Vehicle Licensing Agency

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Your CV

When you send your CV off to a potential employer, remember that you won't be the only one. Hundreds of other people could be applying for the job as well.

So what are you going to do to make you stand out from the crowd? Why should an employer take a chance on you instead of someone else?

Your CV is your first real chance to sell yourself to a potential employer. Most employers will scan through a CV in about 30 seconds so you need to grab their attention from the start - and make them want to invite you for an interview.

There are five main areas to consider when writing your CV:

• Make sure your CV looks the part. Your CV should look clean and tidy - don't scrawl it out on a piece of A4 paper. If you haven't got access to a PC or printer, ask a friend or use your local library. Use a good quality paper and steer clear of fancy borders and front covers.

• Watch out for silly spelling and grammar mistakes. They make you look lazy and show employers that you don't really care. It's not difficult to do a spell check on your PC and if you're really stuck then don't just guess, reach for a dictionary. Get a friend to read through your CV for you - a second opinion is always useful.

• Make sure your CV is well organised. When you list your previous jobs, make sure the dates are correct and try not to leave any gaps. If you took time out to go travelling then say so - employers won't mark you down just because you've tried something new.

• Don't waffle. Remember that employers don't have time to read every word of your CV. Long paragraphs and sentences put people off, so try bullet-points to break up text. Make sure your CV is no longer than two pages long - employers don't want your life history, they just want to see that you've got what it takes to do the job.

• Don't list any failures. Employers have enough trouble finding someone who is right for the job - they don't need help finding reasons not to employ you. If you have to include a mistake from your past, make sure you show the employer that you learnt something from the experience.

Keep it simple

Personal details
Start off with your full name, address, date of birth, home and mobile phone numbers, email address and nationality. If you are offered an interview, the employer will want to get hold of you so give him as many options as possible.

Summary/professional profile
This is the No1 area for selling yourself. Set out your main skills and personal qualities but keep it interesting and tight - one paragraph should do to cover everything.

Education and qualifications
List your qualifications and education history, with the most recent first. You don't need to list the grades for each exam you have passed unless they were exceptional results - simply listing the number and type of exams you've passed is fine. Also, list any relevant professional organisations you belong to and training courses you have been on.

Work experience
Start with your most recent position and work backwards, giving addresses along with start and finish dates. Set out your main responsibilities, duties and most importantly achievements, along with any skills you picked up or improvements you made while you were there. This is a really important section in your CV so make it count - but don't waffle.

If you have not had a full-time job before, detail any part-time jobs you may have held or any placement you have been on.

Other skills
Set out any computer skills you may have and the software you are most familiar with. Can you type, do shorthand or speak a foreign language fluently? If you have a driving licence, let the employer know. If it's clean, tell them.

Interests & hobbies
Briefly list what you get up to in your spare time. Put down any positions you hold in clubs or associations, along with any responsibilities and achievements.

References
Make sure you have at least two people (including one from your previous or current job) who will tell an employer what a thoroughly nice person you are and what a potential asset to the company you would be. If you want to list them now make sure you include their name, job title, postal & e-mail address and contact phone numbers. Alternatively, just put "Available on request" so the employer knows to follow up references at a later date.

Add a covering letter

The main aim of a covering letter is to encourage an employer to give you a chance. You want them to read your CV, so sell it to them. You should always enclose a covering letter when applying for a job - most employers won't consider you unless you do.

A covering letter should let the employer know why you are interested in the job and why you think you can do it.

The hints and tips below should point you in the right direction:

• Keep it simple. A covering letter should be short and to the point - no more than six paragraphs.

• Mention the job. If you are replying to an advert, mention what the job is and where you saw it. The company may be advertising for other positions and it may not be clear which job you are applying for.

• Sell yourself. Explain why you are the perfect candidate for the job. Show off your strengths and experience. Refer to your CV - if it goes missing then at least an employer will know that you've sent it.

• Check it for mistakes. A silly spelling mistake in a covering letter is likely to cost you your chance of getting an interview. Also, make sure it is addressed to the right person in the right department.

A covering letter can be just as important as a CV in getting you an interview. It's your first point of contact with your potential employer - so make it count.

Essex County Council

(B172 Coppice Row, Theydon Bois) (Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2009

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council has made the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close B172 Coppice Row, Theydon Bois, in the District of Epping Forest, from its junction with B1393 Epping Road, to its junction with Piercing Hill.

The closure is scheduled to commence on 4 October 2009 for 5 nights between the hours of 19:00 and 07:00, weather permitting, or where appropriate signs are showing, and is required for the safety of the public and workforce while carriageway resurfacing work is undertaken.

Access for emergency vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closures.

The alternative route will be via B1393 Epping Road, High Road, Theydon Road, Piercing Hill and vice versa.

The Order will come into effect on 4 October 2009 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Dated: 1 October 2009.

Yim Kong, Assistant Director for Highways, County Hall, Chelmsford.

Keeper in Thailand squad

Anstead continued: "It showed we are going in the right direction and we showed resilience. We coped with their direct style."

A fairly uneventful first half saw neither keeper seriously tested.

Harlow's Liam Wright seemed to be bundled down by two home defenders in the box on 17 minutes but no penalty was given.

Ijah Anderson went off with a groin injury on 25 minutes and was replaced by Obegbite Adegbite.

No goal was threatened until the 65th minute when Ashley Taylor-Forbes' 20-yard shot hit the home bar.

Harlow were then reduced to 10 men on 71 minutes but just four minutes later the visitors took the lead.

Harlow were awarded a free-kick and substitute Jason Mason stroked a delightful 22-yard free-kick over the wall and past the helpless East Thurrock keeper Richard Wray at the near post.

Stung, Thurrock attacked and a Ryan Sammons cross was headed against a home post by May Cornhill.

Thurrock equalised on 84 minutes when Cornhill beat Harlow's flat-footed defence to head powerfully in from Sammons' corner.

There was still time for Wray to brilliantly tip away a fierce Mason shot.

Anstead added: "I thought we deserved a win. We had the better chances but we conceded a poor goal."

HARLOW TN: Waite, Clemo, Clarey, O'Cearuill, Anderson (Adegbite 25), Doolan, Pelley, Edgerley (sent off 71), Taylor-Forbes, Robinson (Edwards 90), Wright (Mason 55). Subs not used: Simpson, Abraham. Att: 97.

'Snooker-mad youngster can reach the top'

SNOOKER-loopy youngster Paul Burton is holding his own against adult players as he begins to make a name for himself in his favourite sport.

The 12-year-old Stewards School student defeated several adult players to finish third in the snooker league held at his club, Pockets in Ware.

He won £350 for his endeavours.

Former professional Jason Pegram, based in Harlow, has been coaching the youngster since May and believes he could make a real impact in the game.

At the moment his breaks are consistently into the 30s which is impressive for someone so young. His highest break is 38.

"He doesn't want to play football. Snooker is his chosen sport. I have been coaching him since May and he has really come on," explained Pegram.

Paul reached the quarter-finals of an open tournament in Ware while competing against much older players.

"He is really looking to improve his game. He has got a very good cue action. I can spot talent and he's a lovely lad as well. He just wants to play his snooker."

'Mad' spell costs Harlow victory

Harlow Tn 3, Redbridge 3
Ryman League, division one north

A MAD three minutes cost the Hawks as they tossed away a two-goal lead and were forced to accept a home draw against managerless Redbridge.

Poor defending saw Harlow go from 2-0 ahead through strikes from debutant and former Crystal Palace striker Ashley Robinson and Jason Mason, to 3-2 down between the 60th and 62nd minutes before Ola Akinnawo rescued a point.

Hawks boss Anthony Anstead said: "To let a home lead go away like that is unforgivable. It's frustrating because we were the better side and created the better chances.

"Ashley Robinson looked good and when his fitness improves he will be a real handful."

Anstead rang the changes for this match.

Robinson, ex-Swansea City and Brentford defender Ijah Anderson – once banned for testing positive for cocaine – and former Cheltenham Town reserve left winger Liam Wright made their league debuts as did central defender Joe O'Cearuill.

Another new signing, utility player Obegbite Adegbite, was on the bench.

Redbridge went into the match under caretaker boss Dave Ross, who stepped up from managing the reserve side after the surprise departure of Jay Devereux.

Harlow went ahead on eight minutes. Robinson had a perfect start to his Harlow league career as he turned inside his marker and slotted the ball past visitors' keeper David McCartney.

This gave Harlow added confidence but they did not increase their lead until the 47th minute.

Redbridge allowed Jason Mason far too much space as he walked through the defence unchallenged and rifled home.

The match was then turned on its head when three quick goals in three minutes gave Redbridge a shock lead.

Leon Diaczuk shot home after 58 minutes and a minute later Charlie Georgiou lobbed Hawks keeper Jamie Waite to make it 2-2 after a mistake from Anderson.

"I take responsibility for this goal as I lost the ball which led to it," admitted Anderson afterwards.

Substitute Harry Oniha then capitalised on an awful defensive mistake and took full advantage by slotting home for 2-3.

But Harlow refused to lie down and fought back for a point when Akinnawo rifled home for the Hawks on 70 minutes.

However, Akinnawo sustained an ankle injury in scoring and this ruled him out of the match at East Thurrock three days later. He is also a doubt for the game at Ware this Saturday.

HARLOW TN: Waite, Clemo, Clarey, O'Cearuill, Anderson, Pelley, Akinnawo, Taylor-Forbes, Robinson, Mason, Wright. Subs: Gradosielski, Adegbite, Oshitola, Doolan, Edgerley. Att: 164.

ON THE CHARGE: Hawks winger Ola Akinnawo before scoring the goal that rescued a point for Harlow Town (HSP0596042)

Second defeat for premier champs Alemite Athletic

THE alarm bells must be beginning to ring for Peter Lucia's perennial silverware winners Alemite Athletic after a second successive defeat.

Following last week's loss in the Wally Day Cup final, the Footprint Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District League premier division champions opened their defence with a surprise 3-2 defeat at newly-promoted Heath Rovers.

In division one, Alemite's new reserve side went down 3-1 at Birchanger, who were relegated from the premier division last season, to complete a miserable weekend for the Harlow-based club.

In division two, Ryan Brown hit a hat-trick to give Frontiers a 5-2 home win against Thaxted Rangers reserves. Peter Thorpe got the other two.

Pegram beaten by former World No.3

Snooker

FORMER World No.3 Stephen Lee defeated Harlow's Jason Pegram in the last 16 of the prestigious Pontin's Snooker Championship in North Wales.

Rotund Lee, once a familiar figure on the UK snooker scene who competed in several World Championships at The Crucible, defeated Pegram 4-2 in last Wednesday's match at Prestatyn.

Pegram had led 2-1 at one stage.

Lee, of Trowbridge, went on to win it, beating David Donovan (Wales) 4-0 in the final.

Earlier, Pegram, of Church End, had beaten Simon Day (South London) 3-0 in the first round.

He then beat Day's brother Matthew, a professional, 3-2 in the second round.

Pegram earned a place in the last 16 by defeating Billy Davies (Liverpool) 4-3.

Pegram, who used to be a professional, is a member at Pockets Snooker Club in Ware.

He has recently returned to the sport after a five-year break since retiring as a pro.

Variety to spice up Friday's race night

Welcome to Inside Track, our column that gives you the reader an insight into Harlow Greyhound Stadium as our top tipster reveals his favourites for tomorrow (Friday September 25).

A BIT of variety has been added to this Friday night's card with three heats of a graded competition included in the 12-race programme.

The first two in each heat qualify for next Friday's final (Oct 2).

The first heat at 9pm looks the least competitive of the trio and RONNIES LUVVIE is strongly fancied to make all from an inviting draw.

She has little to fear from any of her rivals in the early-pace department and can build an unassailable advantage.

VICAR OF WISBECH stays on well and can take the second qualifying spot.

Heat 2 at 9.15pm is a tricky affair with all six runners holding claims of making the final.

COKE TIP MAN has received a welcome drop in grade and looks the safest option with JIGGY JAZZ probably being best of the rest.

The final heat at 9.30pm may end up being a match with SAMMY PATSY and PHILFEN SHADOW possibly having the race between them.

At a push I would select the former but the safest option betting wise may be the reverse forecast.

Selections for Friday September 25:

7.30pm Wandering Fox; 7.45pm Ronnies Kate; 8pm No Joke Goofy; 8.15pm Topper Bluebell; 8.30pm Gold Eagle; 8.45pm Ronnies Flyer; 9pm Ronnies Luvvie; 9.15pm Coke Tip Man; 9.30pm Sammy Patsy; 9.45pm Dainty Benny; 10pm Julies Protege; 10.15pm Borna Payment.

Continental flavour to weekend's running

Running

GERMANY and France were the continental locations for Harlow runners competing abroad last weekend.

In the Berlin Marathon, first Harlow Running Club member to finish was Katie Herrington in a fantastic 3 hrs, 40 min and 24 sec.

This was her first marathon and came only seven days after she ran a personal best (PB) time in a half marathon.

Grahame Thomas was not far back in 3:41.51.

Dionne Jones also had a superb run and finished in 3:43.48, beating her PB by more than 10 minutes.

Andy Terrell clocked 4:02.32.

At the Ronde Ceretanne 20K run in the French Pyrenees, Clare Williams finished in 1:53.26 and Wendy Spring recorded 2:08.13.

In the 6km event, Peter Mills finished in 33.44 and his wife Joanne Mills finished second lady vet 60 in 34.02.

At the Bupa Great North Run, Steve Page finished in 2:06.31, Debbie Attridge clocked 2:21.29 and Derek Seymour finished in 2:21.29.

In the Bupa Great Capital 5km run, Katie Woodhouse finished in 28.46.

Club lose to champs

DIVISION three champions Royston beat mid-table Harlow 3-0 in the teams' last game in the Herts Summer Squash League.

First string Ian Gould went down 11-15, 3-15, 8-15.

Second string Dan Collison also lost in straight sets (13-15, 2-15, 5-15).

Completing a miserable whitewash, third string John Tennant was unable to take a single set off his opponent either. He was defeated 8-15, 7-15, 10-15.

Harlow's second team lost 2-1 to local rivals Bishop's Stortford.

Early National Cup exit for Colts

Youth rugby

HARLOW were knocked out of the National Colts Cup after losing 30-6 at home to a very good Cambridge side in the first round on Sunday.

The visitors scored two penalties but Rams fly-half Danny Smith slotted a drop goal and kicked a penalty to leave it at 6-6.

Cambridge scored a well-worked unconverted try through one of their wingers and led 11-6 at half-time.

The visitors scored 19 unanswered points after the break.

Harlow are now in the plate competition for first-round losers.

HARLOW U-15s bounced back from defeat the previous Sunday to thrash Ilford U-15s 60-0.

In the first five minutes, Rams number eight Matt Smith broke away from the halfway line and scored a fine try.

Unfortunately he pulled a hamstring in scoring and went off.

Matt Norris kicked the conversion.

The Junior Rams began to dominate and ran in five more tries before the break.

Flanker Jack Boswell-Banks scored two tries following powerful runs.

Outside centre Kurtis Knightly rounded off a fine backs' move and flanker Sonny Handscomb took the ball just outside the Ilford twenty-two and forced his way over.

The last try of the half was scored by lock Josh Doe, who had an exceptional game.

Norris kicked three more conversions for a 38-0 half-time lead.

In the second half, winger Lewis Brown went over before outside centre Josh Davies touched down after the backs had created an overlap.

Wing Cormack Roberts stole the ball at the breakdown and ran half the length of the field to score.

Sonny Handscomb rounded it off with his second try. Norris kicked one second-half conversion.

Two Harlow players sportingly played for Ilford in the second half to keep the numbers even.

HARLOW U-14s made it three victories from three matches when they won 40-22 at rivals Upper Clapton.

Tries from Frazer Bleach and Tom Cunningham put Harlow in control.

Clapton struck back with two unconverted tries but the Junior Rams continued to score.

Cunningham struck twice more with wing Lewis Couborough also getting his name on the scoresheet.

Fly-half Scott Whitby kicked five conversions and Dan Harvey narrowly missed the last one. Clapton scored two more tries, one of which was converted.

HARLOW U-13s lost 49-0 at Westcliff but showed a marked improvement against experienced and well-drilled opponents who had more than 30 players in their squad.

From the start, Harlow made it difficult for the home side and competed well in the set-plays.

However, they could not prevent Westcliff getting the ball wide and out-pacing them to score several tries.

JOY: Simon Doble, right, with England colleagues Geoff Booth and Chris Watkins, centre (s)

Doble helps England to Home Nations triumph

A PETANQUE player from Harlow was a member of the England winning team at the Home Nations Championships in Swansea.

Simon Doble, who was playing alongside Geoff Booth and Chris Watkins, from Kent, finished with nine wins from 12 games, and were the best performing England team.

Noble said: "It was more than we could have hoped for, and we are certainly proud that we didn't let the squad down."

Doble's team trailed Wales IV 12-2 in the first game before they fought back to win 13-12.

The side went on to win five out of six games on the first day.

They only lost to Wales I 13-7 and Wales II 13-9 in total in the two-day competition.

England won the Championship with 58 wins. Wales (53 wins) and Scotland (33) were second and third respectively.

Rams' first win comes at a cost

A MUCH-improved performance from the Rams brought their first victory of the campaign, but it was not without cost.

Saturday's triumph saw them pick up injuries which have left winger Simon Vanbeck (ankle injury) and No.8 Kane Claridge (shoulder injury) doubtful for their home clash with Essex rivals Saffron Walden in two days.

However, director of rugby and scrum-half Lee Harron should have recovered after sustaining a four-inch gash on his forehead which needed eight stitches.

The Rams defence was much better than in their opening day defeat against Romford & Gidea Park. Harlow also competed well against a bigger pack.

Enfield Ignatians 3, Harlow 22

RFU London div two north east

Rams skipper Scott Romaine said: "We cut out mistakes and were much more competitive at the breakdown. We won our own ball and turned some of theirs over."

The Rams took the lead after only seven minutes with a well-struck penalty by full-back Rob Mackie.

Mackie also played a part in Harlow's first try two minutes later.

He dashed down the right wing and passed to Romaine who touched down. Mackie kicked a difficult conversion from out wide.

After Simon Vanbeck went off injured on 14 minutes, Harlow worked themselves into the Enfield twenty-two and scored straight away.

The home pack set up a rolling maul which stopped just short of the line, but fly-half Dave Stradling took the ball at pace and scored an unconverted try.

Enfield came close to scoring when Jon Moore's long-range penalty attempt hit the bar on 36 minutes as Harlow led 15-0 at half-time.

Enfield started the second half well and Moore kicked a penalty to reduce the deficit.

Some good work by Mackie and Dan Hockley almost led to a try with less than 15 minutes remaining.

Harron, who bravely carried on after his 40th-minute head injury, also came close with a kick forward but was stopped unfairly by a late tackle.

The home side gave away several penalties late on and Harlow made them pay by scoring their third and final try on 70 minutes. Harron's long pass found Luke Bowering who stepped through the gap with ease to score.

Big loss for Ladies in opener

Crosytx II 5, Harlow 2

Essex Women's Hockey League, prem div

THERE was only one side in it as Harlow slipped to defeat in their league opener at Crostyx II on Saturday.

The visitors, missing midfielder Emma Tweddle and keeper Nicky Newland, struggled to get out of their own half in the first period and conceded two goals on eight and 18 minutes.

The hosts went ahead from an open play move before doubling their lead when a shot bypassed several Harlow sticks to go in.

Shortly after the break, Crostyx increased their lead with a shot from inside the D.

Harlow reduced the deficit on 50 minutes when Anna Ferdinando crossed the ball to the top of the D to Carolyn Rushton who slotted in a reverse-stick effort.

Crosytx made it 4-1 on 55 minutes.

Harlow's stand-in keeper Jo Green made two good saves but could not prevent a fifth home goal on the hour mark after she failed to clear the ball.

Shortly before the end, a short-corner routine saw Rushton score from Sonya Amos' pass.

HARLOW (squad): Green, Rowley, Trimble, Shearman-Slack, Ferdinando, Rushton (C), Douglas, Figg, Price, Amos, Ashford, Lewis, Taylor, Apps.

Kiln too hot in shoot-out

KILN Rangers U-12s moved into the second round of the Essex County Cup after a thrilling 4-2 penalty shoot-out victory against Billericay-based Forest Glade B.

Keeper Dylan Wicker, Lewis Watson, James Davey and Colyn Edmondson all scored while Wicker made a crucial save.

The Harlow club were hosting their first ever county cup match.

Southend & District Youth League side Forest Glade took an early 2-0 lead before Rangers hit back through Lewis Watson.

Forest again scored early in the second half but Watson made it 3-2.

With time running out Watson grabbed his hat-trick to take the game into extra-time.

Essex Senior Football League result: Southend M 0, Sawbridgeworth Tn 1.

Keeper in Thailand squad for PSG game

East Thurrock Utd 1, Harlow Tn 1

Ryman League div one north

By DAVID RIMMER

KEEPER Jamie Waite, right, will play for Harlow Town at Ware this Saturday before he flies out to join the Thailand U-23 squad for a match against former French champions Paris St Germain next Tuesday.

Waite told Star Sport: "I do not know if I'm playing but hope to get the chance. Hopefully I do not miss any games."

Hawks boss Anthony Anstead sdded: "It's good for Jamie and we may get the chance to have a game against Thailand at Harlow in January."

The custodian, who signed in the summer, is enjoying his spell at Harlow and believes the Hawks can turn the corner and move up the table. "I'm excited by what we are trying to do at Harlow," he said.

The Hawks were denied victory against second-placed East Thurrock on Tuesday by a late goal.

This was despite only having 10 men.

Harlow midfielder James Edgerley was sent off after he allegedly elbowed Thurrock's Ben Boyce on 71 minutes.

A free-kick had just been awarded to Thurrock after Edgerley had fouled Boyce and the pair tussled resulting in a fracas involving players from both sides.

Edgerley was then shown a red card while Boyce went unpunished but Thurrock's Ben Wood and Harlow's Michael Pelley were given yellow cards for their part in the subsequent spat.

Anstead said: "Edgerley is not an aggressive player and if anything it should have been a yellow card for each player."

High Court throws out winding-up order but club could still face 10-point penalty

THE Hawks face the likely prospect of a 10-point deduction today (Thursday) when the Ryman League board meets, writes DAVID RIMMER.

But this will be a drop in the ocean compared to the prospect of liquidation which has hung over the club – reportedly £280,000 in debt – like a Sword of Damocles all summer.

A CVA (Company Voluntary Agreement) was agreed last Thursday to allow the club to pay off its creditors after Harlow-based firm LD Financial Services stepped in to help the cash-strapped club.

A judge at London's High Court yesterday formally dismissed a winding-up petition brought against the club by the taxman.

Registrar Derrett was told that the club, which had faced winding up proceedings brought by Her Majesties Revenue and Customs, had entered the CVA on September 17 and in those circumstances he formally dismissed the moves to close the club.

If an arrangement had not been reached and the club had been wound up its affairs would have effectively handed over to an official receiver.

His job would then have been to do his best to ensure that debts were paid off by selling any assets available and then bringing the business to a close.

However, Nick Robinson, the Ryman League vice-chairman, expects a decision on a possible points deduction to be made today.

He told Star Sport: "It will be brought up and a decision will be made."

Hawks chairman Carol Bothwell remains undaunted. She said: "We will appeal against a 10-point deduction but I am confident that even if a 10-point deduction goes through we will still avoid relegation."

Harlow are currently on six points and fourth from bottom in division one north (19th spot).

But Bothwell is relieved the club is still going. "Everything had been up in the air and it's a big weight lifted. We can get everything sorted out now. I would like to thank LD Financial Services and my family for their support," she said.

Under the CVA, £1,600 per month will be paid to creditors but the current three-figure weekly playing wage bill will be maintained.

Bothwell, who took over the club in July, said: "The playing budget will stay the same. It's not going to change. If we get investors and sponsors we will look to put it up. Three people have approached me and I will speak to them in the next few weeks."

David Mond, of Hodgson Chartered Accountants, has been appointed to make sure the club pays off their monthly debt. He said: "Harlow Town FC has done what was necessary to give the club a chance to re-emerge and try and rebuild itself in a more stable, financial position with the support of the town."

Hawks first team boss Anthony Anstead said: "If there is a 10-point deduction, we will cross that path when we come to it. We are strong enough to get over a 10-point deduction."

Care for a little character?

People from all walks of life can become foster carers. In fact, at SFS we actively seek a whole range of people to match the different needs and backgrounds of the children we foster.

There are no formal qualifications required. We welcome applications from people from different ethnic and cultural backgrounds. You don't have to be married or own your own house, but you must have at least one spare bedroom that is just for fostering.

There's no set age range, but we do expect people to be mature enough to work with the complex issues that the children may have, and fit enough to perform this very demanding task.

Fostering.
Care for a little character?

Do you like working with children and enjoy the character they bring to life?

Hundreds of children in your community need a home and someone to care for them.

We are recruiting carers from a wide range of backgrounds. We are interested if you have a spare bedroom and can look after children.

If you can offer a child a caring home we can help you with:

- training
- 24 hour support
- generous weekly allowance of over £375

Supported Fostering Services is a Charity and has been rated outstanding by Ofsted at our recent inspection.
